

Copyright License Agreement ("Agreement")

The California Independent System Operator Corporation ("California ISO") with offices at 250 Outcropping Way, Folsom, CA 95630, has received a request from Michael W. Burnett ("Licensee") at 531 Lasuen Mall, #16064, Stanford, CA 9430, to use specific copyright content owned by the California ISO depicted on Exhibit A ("ISO Work"), and made a part of this Agreement for the purpose of publication in a report on renewable energy, to be posted on a Stanford University webpage at <http://large.stanford.edu/courses/2015/ph240/burnett/2> and <http://large.stanford.edu/courses/2015/ph240/>.

Based on this specific use, the California ISO grants Licensee, a non-exclusive, royalty free right to use the California ISO Work only as shown in the Exhibit and only for the limited purpose describe herein, providing credit to the California ISO. The California ISO does not transfer any further rights or interests to the ISO Work to the Licensee. The California ISO provides the ISO Work "AS IS" without any warranties or any determinations of accuracy or completeness. Licensee agrees to use the ISO Work at its own risk and assumes any and all liability associated with or that may arise out of the use of the ISO Work.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties' duly authorized representatives have executed this Agreement as of the latest date set forth below.
